

INSTITUTE OF CHEMISTRY

UNIVERSITY OF SÃO PAULO

Universidade de São Paulo (USP) is the largest higher education and research institution in Brazil, and it is within the best universities in all global evaluations, not rarely being the top-ranked in Latin America.

Undergraduate studies

USP offers 247 undergraduate programs in all areas of knowledge: natural sciences, biological and health sciences, humanities, arts, communications and social sciences.

Praça do Relógio

Internationalization is one of the USP guidelines. It welcomes people from all continents, and stimulates this process via networks and consortiums, such as Erasmus Mundus, Associação das Universidades de Língua Portuguesa, Magalhães Network, among others.

INSTITUTE OF CHEMISTRY

At the Institute of Chemistry (IQUSP) the internationalization of the undergraduate courses at IQUSP is proceeding on course, with foreign students working in our research laboratories and our students traveling to several different countries to carry out part of their research projects with both institutional support and external funding. Foreign students can also have the institutional support. You can study and research at our Institute!

You can study as a regular student or you can apply for one or two academic periods (semesters) as an exchange student.

As an exchange student you can spend a semester with an institutional exchange student program or you can spend the summer vacation in a research lab at IQUSP.

Institute of Chemistry

Institute of Chemistry (USP) has a long history of research and is committed to prepare its students to meet the challenges and to work in research laboratories and at the industry as well.

IQUSP offers three undergraduate courses:
Chemistry
Environmental Chemistry
Chemistry and Chemical Education

FUNDING AND SCHOLARSHIPS

Financial support provided to foreign undergraduate students is generally from the IQUSP or from sponsors like FAPESP and Santander, among others.

TUITION

With a formal agreement between IQUSP and foreign institutions formalizing an exchange program, USP receives exchange students at no cost and charges NO TUITION.
